

OPPORTUNITY NEIGHBORHOODS FOR REGIONAL PROSPERITY

Positioning opportunity neighborhoods, such as North Minneapolis as high potential assets toward the regions economic growth & prosperity

A worksheet for Monday, December 14, 2015

Earlier this summer, we developed six “results” as a starting point for our collaborative work. Reminder, a “result” is a condition of well-being for children, adults, families or communities. Next we will identify outcomes and performance measures for results. As we talk this morning, put your own project work in one or more of the “results” lines identified below. This is just a preliminary exercise, so don’t worry if it doesn’t fit neatly.

EXPECTED RESULT	HOW IS MY WORK CONTRIBUTING?	IS THERE A MILESTONE MY WORK WILL REACH BY JUNE 2016?	IS THERE A MILESTONE MY WORK WILL REACH BY DECEMBER 2017?	OTHER NOTES
A ready and capable talent-base
Marketable and sufficient housing stock
Ready and marketable business development sites
Safe and welcoming neighborhoods and commercial corridors
Well connected transit and equitable access
Measurable contribution to the vitality of the region				